How to keep the Windows Up-to-date?

Even though Windows 10 has an automatic update feature, you can easily check for updates yourself. Updates are usually two types: (i) the major updates (anniversary update) that add new features while (ii) smaller updates improve security and other features.

This guide helps you to check for updates manually.

From the start menu, then select the setting icon for the 'update and security' option.

image-1594804574428.png
Image not found or type unknown

Select the update and security option

image-1594804586044.png
Image not found or type unknown

If the update is available, it will show a download option, you can download updates and perform install action.

image-1594804630428.png
Image not found or type unknown

In some cases, the system doesn't show the download option instead there will be 'check for updates option'. Click on the option and any available update will now display at the top.

image-1594804644308.png
Image not found or type unknown

You can perform the install action after the download. In some cases, you will need to restart the system to complete the update. You can restart the system right or you can schedule a conviniet time.

image-1594804659703.png
Image not found or type unknown

You can view update history below the update option. This is useful to monitor security updates for work.

image-1594804676271.png

Image not found or type unknown

Revision #2
Created Wed, Jul 15, 2020 7:11 AM by Meliza
Updated Mon, Jul 20, 2020 8:15 AM by Meliza